ABSTRACT

This document contains two occupational information indexes. The first index is an arrangement of the occupational titles contained in the "Occupational Outlook Handbook" (OOH). The information in this index is arranged in four columns: (1) the numbers to identify the CDM Career Area-Worker Trait Group code; (2) Worker Trait Group title, DOT title, and OOH title; (3) the nine-digit DOT classification code; and (4) the page number of the 1976-77 edition of the OOH on which information about the occupation is found. The second index is an arrangement of occupational titles contained in Volume II of the Encyclopedia of Careers (EOC). It is based on the Career Area-Worker Trait Group structure of the Career Information System component of the Career Decision-Making (CDM) Program developed by Appalachia Educational Laboratory. (See CE 019 229 for an overview of the total CDM program.) This Career Area-Worker Trait Group structure is similar to the Area/Group structure of the Supplement to the Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT), Fourth Edition. The index itself is arranged in five columns: (1) numbers identifying the CDM Career Area-Worker Trait Group code; (2) Worker Trait Group title, DOT title, and EOC title; (3) the nine-digit DOT classification code; (4) the page number of the 1975 edition of the EOC on which information about the occupation is found; and (5) the page number of the 1972 edition of the EOC on which information about the occupation is found. (See CE 019 237 for a full discussion of the CDM Career Area-Worker Trait Group classification system.) (BM)

Worker Trait Group Index to the

OCCUPATIONAL OUTLOOK HANDBOOK

1976-77 Edition

WHAT IT IS

The 1976-77 edition of the Occupational Outlook Handbook (OOH), published by the U.S. Department of Labor Statistics, is a major career information resource. It contains up-to-date information on approximately 850 occupations and 30 major industries in addition to information on job trends and projections to 1985.

This index is an arrangement of the occupational titles contained in the OOH. It is based on the Career Area -- Worker Trait Group structure of the Career Information System materials* which is similar to the Area/Group structure of the Supplement to the Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT), Fourth Edition. People engaged in career exploration can use this index to locate occupational information in the OOH related to the Worker Trait Groups.

HOW THIS INDEX IS ORGANIZED

The information in this index is arranged into four columns as shown in the following illustration. An explanation of each column follows the illustration.

Column 1	Column 2	Column 3	Column 4
Area — WTG No.	Area — Worker Trait Group Title DOT Title and OOH Title	DOT Code	OOH Page
01	ARTISTIC
01.01	LITERARY ARTS
	Copy Writer	131.067-014	126
01.02	VISUAL ARTS
	Clothes Designer OOH Title: Designer	142.061-018	607
	Creative Director OOH Title: Production Manager, Advertising	141.061-030	126
	Displayer, Merchandise OOH Title: Display Worker	298.081-010	553

*Developed by Appalachia Educational Laboratory and published by McKnight Publishing Company.

Column 1
Area — WTG No.

- These are the numbers used to identify the Career Area — Worker Trait Group. These numbers are the same as those used in other Career Information System materials.

Column 2
Area — Worker Trait Group Title

- When the word "NONE" appears in this column, it means that the OOH does not contain any occupations for this Worker Trait Group.

DOT Title

- The occupational title as listed and defined in the DOT.

OOH Title

- The occupational title used in the OOH which is another name for the DOT title.

Column 3
DOT Code

- The nine-digit number used to classify and organize DOT titles.

Column 4
OOH Page

- The page number of the 1976-77 edition of the OOH on which information about the title is found.

Occupational entries in Column 2 may have more than one title.

EXAMPLE

Clothes Designer 142.061-018 607
OOH Title: Designer

The first occupational title is always the title as it appears in the DOT. The remaining entry or entries are titles by which the job may be known in different parts of the country.

When there is only one entry, the title listed is the DOT title which is also the one used in the OOH.

EXAMPLE

Copy Writer 131.067-014 126

HOW TO USE THIS INDEX

Turn to the Area — Worker Trait Group number you are exploring. Scan the list of titles and identify those occupations for which you wish information. Use the OOH job title and page number to locate the information about the occupation you selected.

Worker Trait Group Index to the

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF CAREERS AND VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE, VOLUME II CAREERS AND OCCUPATIONS

1975 Edition

WHAT IT IS

The Encyclopedia of Careers and Vocational Guidance (EOC), 1975 edition, published by J.G. Ferguson Company, is a standard reference source consisting of two volumes. Volume I, Planning Your Career, contains articles relating to general guidance and major areas of work. Volume II, Careers and Occupations, contains detailed articles describing occupations.

This index is an arrangement of occupational titles contained in Volume II of the 1975 edition of the Encyclopedia of Careers (EOC). It is based on the Career Area — Worker Trait Group structure of the Career Information System materials* which is similar to the Area/Group structure of the Supplement to the Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT), Fourth Edition. In addition, reference has been made to the 1972 edition of the EOC for most of the occupational titles. People engaged in career exploration can use this index to locate occupational information in the EOC related to the Worker Trait Groups.

HOW THIS INDEX IS ORGANIZED

The information in this index is arranged into five columns as shown in the following illustration. An explanation of each column follows the illustration.

Column 1	Column 2	Column 3	Column 4	Column 5
Area — WTG No.	Area — Worker Trait Group Title DOT Title and EOC Title	DOT Code	EOC '75	EOC '72

*Developed by Appalachia Educational Laboratory and published by McKnight Publishing Company.

Column 1
Area — WTG No.

- These are the numbers identifying the Career Area — Worker Trait Group. These numbers are the same as those used in other Career Information System materials.

Column 2
Area — Worker Trait Group Title

- When the word "NONE" appears in this column, it means that the EOC does not contain any occupations for this Worker Trait Group.

DOT Title

- The occupational title as listed and described in the DOT.

EOC Title

- The occupational title used in the EOC which is another name for the DOT title.

Column 3
DOT Code

- The nine-digit number used to classify and organize DOT titles.

Column 4
EOC '75

- The page number of the 1975 edition of the EOC on which information about the occupation is found.

Column 5
EOC '72

- The page number of the 1972 edition of the EOC on which information about the occupation is found.

Entries in Column 2 may have more than one title.

EXAMPLE

Editor, Publication EOC Title: Fiction Editor Magazine Editor	132.037-026	87	87

The first occupational title is always the title as it appears in the DOT. The remaining entry or entries are titles by which the job may be known in different parts of the country.

When there is only one entry, the title listed is the DOT title which is also the one used in the EOC.
